STANZA 1

Oh, Lord, thy grace, so great for me; yet, I would ne - ver choose with-out thy love first reach-ing me lest my de-cline pur-sued. Not of myself but on-ly thee did e'er my faith a - wake! Part from thy call, thy grace would be no choice that I could make.

STANZA 2 (3 on last p.)

In my re - volt and hope - less way, so fu-tile was my aim. Though I was found an en-e-my, your per-fect life you gave; and I sur-veyed thy match-less love dis-played up - on the cross and not because of good I've done; I count my gains as loss! All the glo - ry to e-ver

Stanza 3

And, Lord, may I belong to thee;
for thy reward, receive
this erring heart, now found in thee, eternally redeemed!
Though sin declares its victory,
my king will soon return;
and though it shouts its falsities,
a louder shout will come!
